Hi Gary,

I was speaking to you last Thursday regarding a quote for curtains in one of our work spaces.

I've attached photos of the room in question and the ceiling is plasterboard not a suspended ceiling.

One of our employees measured the room at 8ft high x 17ft wide approximately.

As chatted about we need the curtains to separate the space for different programs that run in the room. I noticed from your website that stage curtains allow the longest drops and heaviest weights so we were wondering would they be a better option than the Acoustic curtains? We are aware noise will still be heard but are hoping to dull it out as much as possible.

Maybe if we could get a quote on both Stage and Acoustic curtains?
Also do you supply the fabric or do we buy separately?

If you require any further information from us please just let me know.

Kind regards,
Clare
