

Company and site operative notice

Company and site operatives are responsible for maintaining a tidy site at all times. Any debris from your works are your responsibility and are always to be removed from your work area and placed in the site skips provided.

Only debris from our site will be accepted in skips provided. Failure to comply with this notice will result in us photographing and recording any such issues and instructing clearance of such items and counter charging for carrying this out.

Your co-operation as always will be greatly appreciated
