Hi all

Hope you have had a good weekend?

fixscreen £4,578

I have just read your email and I know that I am not really awaiting anything at present except the few little finishing pieces but it made me think about the future.

I wonder if you could work up a quote for me to put glass doors along the exposed side of my Renson please with the curtains and also with the integrated fixscreen. It is something that I would like to consider for later in the year. In particular, I would like to know what the maximum run length is for the glass doors to all slide one way please? 6m

I would also be interested in the cost of an integrated fixscreen on the back of my Renson which is where I am currently overlooked by neighbours.

Thanks in advance,
Kind regards
Susan
