Hello Rachel,

Absolutely. So as you can see on the drawing they added a sort of guide railing on column 2B that they're actually going to use on column 2A to make sure that screen goes all the way down. This is reference by the green arrow on said drawing. Production is aware of this and therefore it should be a-ok once everything arrives.

Hi Jens,

Thanks for confirming earlier. Please could you just pop something in writing for me so I can attach to client card to say the query as been resolved and what the arrows mean.

Kind regards

Rachel
