Thanks Sally appreciate it.

Good to see the new profile as you say no visible change from clients point of view.

Look forward to receiving new tracks and 100mm brackets

Thanks again

Hi Leeana,

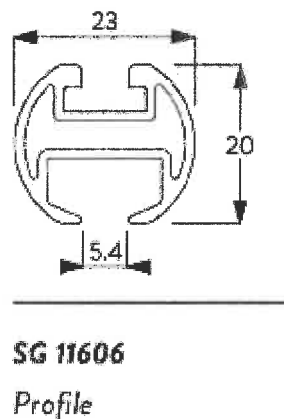

I will arrange for the different samples to be sent to you, just checking we have some of the old 1003 (which I'm sure we can find).

Just for your info see below:

Old Profile:

New Profile:

You can see that the channel where the gliders go has been made larger to accommodate the larger wave gliders, but visibly there is no difference.

I have spoken to my manager and she has agreed to replace the tracks for as a gesture of goodwill due to the delay in launching the new metropole range which did not happen until end May.

I hope this is of help.

Kind regards,

Sally Brown

Morning Sally

Scott has asked me about this as he wasn't sure.

I hadn't realised the profile was actually different as the price list states wave under metropole 23mm. I am not sure the visible difference in the profiles? Either way we require 80mm wave so if that needs the new 7600 profile please can we have this along with the brackets requested.

Also a sample of the new profile would be good please.

Thanks Sal
