Good morning Harris,

I am working with Renson on your proposed project and just wanted you to make clear a few things if possible please to get you a more accurate proposal.

I have labelled P2/S1/P1/S2 (which refers to our pivot and span lengths) and am going to use these as easy reference points or my questions.

- 1) could you please confirm which sides you would like the up lighting quoted on? All 4 sides or just 2 sides for example P1 and P2 or vice versa S1 and S2?
- 2) P1 – is this greyed out area also a wall or is it the side of the house? 891.
- 3) S1 – could you please confirm for me the height of the low wall and subsequently if you have a maximum height to work towards. The portal will require what they call a negative overlength which essentially would be the passage height minus the wall height. Passage height is the calculation from the floor to the underside of the top beam (allow +260mm on top of this to the top side of the framework).
- 4) In my second drawing (please note colours do not coordinate with previous) the red area is the wall, the two green posts are the original posts from S1 which will sit on the wall and the blue column is an additional post which will allow the screen to drop down full length to the floor on side P2.

Look forward to hearing from you,

Kind regards

Rachel

It was 4500*6055 it is now 3950* 5851.

Could this mean a reduced price?

I need to get a revised price so I can get thinking about putting down the deposit

I am trying to get the area prepared as the current decking is being replaced and slightly altered.

I need work out the details of the footings which I will need to put in, for the base plates.

I am hoping they will start in January but that could drift.

I need to come down your way and can come and to see you anytime this week, if you can tell me when is convenient.

Kind Regards,

Harris

Hi

That is good news.

Yes, the side screens come in different colour fabrics.

I have attached the Camargue mounting plate options. As discussed the Camargue is the system where the side screen blinds are within the main structure.

Let us have a look at your new dimensions and we can price based on this.

We can get the quotation to you this week, so that when you come in we can run through the complete details.

Kind regards

Dear Leeana,

I came to see you a few weeks ago, I have now got planning permission from my wife and want to push ahead.

Her main question was if the screens come in arrange of colours, do they?

I am attaching a drawing of how I imagine it could work, the overall size is now smaller than the previous quote.
