Dear Alex

Thank you for your call today and the new quote, it's fine – please go ahead so we can have matching blinds.

Thank you
Kind regards

Good Morning Sylwia,

Lovely to speak with you on the phone earlier.

Please find attached the updated quote as discussed. You will notice a difference in the price of the blind, and my apologies for not noticing before I called you, but the perforated cream material is in the price Band B, whereas I originally quoted for a Band A material which was based upon another previous order for you. If this is okay, please let me know and I will send you the invoice for the outstanding amount and place the order for you. If you would like to keep the original price however, I can recommend a Band A material that is the same colour but is solid slats and not perforated.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed.

Many thanks,
