Hi Scott,

I purchased some Allusion blinds from CP Interiors (for a flat at Horizon) and having lived there for a good while now, I'd like to see what the options are for fitting a better blackout blind/curtain option would be for the master bedroom (240cm tall x 310cm wide). I'm assume the best approach would be a traditional curtain set further in from the existing blinds.

I know you fitted a fair amount of these flats so have you got any suggestions that would work well, and any rough costs would be appreciated.

Thanks,

Robbie Andrews

Hi Scott - yup that's fine.

The market on the ceiling is in the living room by the aircon vent along the big wall. According to Horizon, the paint is Dulux Vinyl Matt in Brilliant White.

Good Morning Robbie

I hope you are well.

I am sorry to ask, but is there any chance we can move Thursday's appointment to Saturday morning coming? 4th March.

My fitting team have to be on a large site and I am short staffed, and I need them all to fit a big unit, which requires hands for health and safety.

Andy my fitter has agreed to do over time, so if it is ok with you can I send him Saturday morning to do the last blind in the bedroom and touch up the wall?

Regards
Scotty
