Subject: Louvolite blinds

Hi

Further to our telephone conversation today, I would be grateful if you could give me an indication on the price for a replacement blind. You will see from the photos that we have a large patio door with 4 separate blinds. Unfortunately the material on one of the blinds has split so it won't go round the roller when moving the blind up or down. If there is no way to replace just the material, please could you let me know how much it would be to replace that blind.

I think it is the Vision range ie day and night stripes. The colour is like a light mushroom/mocha? And the blinds are on a remote control. The size of the broken blind is 94cm wide x 202cm high.

I must admit that I find these blinds a pain and wonder if there is a better option. So if you have any ideas as to what might work better, these would be appreciated.

Many thanks.

Kind regards

Joanna
